About the Author

Setsuko Shibuya is Professor of Anthropology at Seisa University and Visiting Researcher at Showa Women’s University in Japan. She has been studying the society and culture in the rural Mekong Delta in Vietnam since the 1990s, with a particular focus on the effects of social changes on everyday life of the rural residents.