Contemporary Southeast Asia is an internationally refereed journal that specializes in the politics, international relations and security-related issues of Southeast Asia and its wider geostrategic environment. Apart from serving as a reliable and up-to-date source of information on various events and trends in regional politics, international relations and security questions that affect Southeast Asia, CSEA also publishes the results of original research on these subjects by both scholars and other interested persons.

The Editor invites submission of manuscripts within the field of domestic politics, strategic/security issues, political economy, regionalism and international affairs as they impinge on Southeast Asia and the wider Asia-Pacific region. Manuscripts should be double-spaced and between 6,000–8,000 words, including endnotes and an abstract. Research findings of shorter length, as well as reports of on-going research projects, are also invited. Manuscripts should be in Word-format and should be sent electronically to the e-mail address below. CSEA uses endnotes and follows the rules set out in Chapter 15 of the Chicago Manual Style, 12th edition. Authors should use British English. CSEA does not accept manuscripts that have already been published or are simultaneously being considered for publication elsewhere. Manuscripts accepted for consideration will be refereed by external readers.
