First published in 1984 as the ASEAN Economic Bulletin, the Journal of Southeast Asian Economies (JSEAE) is an authoritative source on economic issues facing countries in the region addressed to both researchers and policy-makers.

Submissions of articles to the journal are welcome. Past contributors to our publication include renowned scholars as well as younger professionals. Articles should be of contemporary economic interest and have clear policy relevance. They should be pertinent to Southeast Asian countries or regional economic groupings such as the Association of Southeast Asian Nations (ASEAN).

For full research articles, each manuscript should be between 7,000 and 8,000 words in length, while research notes should be between 4,000 and 5,000 words. In addition to topical relevance, authors are also responsible for ensuring that their submissions meet high standards of English (i.e., the manuscripts should be clear, well-articulated and comprehensible). The JSEAE Editorial Board reserves the right to decline submissions that do not meet the journal’s language standards. The broad format should be scholarly but tables, figures, citations, endnotes, and quotations should be kept to a minimum level essential for the analysis or descriptions intended. All submissions must be accompanied by an abstract of approximately 200 words that offers a broad summary of the manuscript. Specifically, authors should include the purpose, approach, results and implications of the research, while avoiding uncommon abbreviations and reference citations. The abstract should be comprehensible to readers before they have read the complete article. This must be followed by four to five relevant keywords in a separate paragraph.

Submissions to the journal should be original contributions and not under consideration by any other publication. They are subject to external blind refereeing. Electronic submissions are preferred and should be sent as an e-mail attachment to: jseae@iseas.edu.sg.

Alternatively, articles can be sent by post, in duplicate, together with a soft copy in a CD to:
