Pacifica Review
Peace, security & global change
(formerly Interdisciplinary Peace Research)

Pacifica Review endeavours to make sense of a rapidly transforming world and its primary focus is peace, security and global change. It brings together the perspectives of leading scholars and practitioners from around the world, and particularly from the Asia Pacific. It was launched in the context of the profound and diverse nature of contemporary global change which raises difficult practical and theoretical questions cutting across disciplinary boundaries. By cultivating a multidisciplinary perspective, Pacifica Review aims to establish connections between the local, national, and international and transnational levels of organization and between the social, economic and geopolitical dimensions of contemporary change. It provides a forum for normative, analytical and empirical approaches to the study of peace and security.
