It is a vital time for Asian studies.

Subscribe to the Asian Studies Review.

The Asian Studies Review is the journal of the Asian Studies Association of Australia, Australia's peak organisation for all those interested in the study of Asia in Australia. Through their membership of the ASAA, the Asian Studies Review reaches over 800 teachers, academics, businesspeople, public administrators and policy makers, not only in Australia but also overseas.

The Asian Studies Review is just as valuable a resource for overseas readers.

By receiving the Review, they are able to keep up-to-date with major debates and initiatives in Asian studies in Australia.

Contemporary Southeast Asia is a journal that specializes in the politics, international relations and security-related issues of Southeast Asia and its wider geostrategic environment. Although it was originally conceived as a more general journal of the social sciences in 1979, CSEA has come to focus more closely on the concerns of the Institute's Regional Strategic Studies Programme since 1987. Apart from serving as a reliable and up-to-date source of information on various events and trends in regional politics, international relations and security questions that affect Southeast Asia, CSEA also publishes the results of original research on these subjects by both scholars and other interested persons.
