

ABOUT THE AUTHORS

---

Tan Yong Soon is the Permanent Secretary of the Ministry of the Environment and Water Resources, Singapore. He also co-chairs the Executive Committees for Environment and Water Technology, and for the Inter-Ministerial Committee on Sustainable Development.

He began his career in the Singapore Armed Forces and rose to the rank of Brigadier General before joining the Singapore Administrative Service. He has served as Principal Private Secretary to the Prime Minister, Deputy Secretary in the Ministry of Defence and the Ministry of Finance, and CEO of the Urban Redevelopment Authority. He was awarded the Public Administration Medal (Military)(Gold) and the Public Administration Medal (Gold).

He studied in Raffles Institution and National Junior College, Singapore, and holds a BA(Hons) and an MA in engineering from Cambridge University, an MBA from the National University of Singapore and an MPA from Harvard University. He also attended the Advanced Management Program at Harvard Business School.

He is married with two children, and is the author of Living the Singapore Dream, a reflection on his life experiences and those of his childhood friends, which expounds the values that made Singapore – and these individuals – successful.

Lee Tung Jean is Director of Water Studies at the Ministry of the Environment and Water Resources, Singapore, where she is involved in the formulation and implementation of policies relating to the management of water resources and enhancement of Singapore's living environment. She holds a concurrent appointment as the Deputy Executive Director of the Environment and Water Industry Development Council.

In her previous postings within the Singapore Administrative Service, she has worked on sea transport and telecommunications policies at the Ministry of Communications, as well as governance, investment and fiscal policies at the Ministry of Finance.

She studied in Raffles Girls' School and Raffles Junior College, Singapore, and holds a BA(Hons) from Harvard University, an MA in Economics from Yale University, and a DPhil in Economics from Oxford University which she pursued on a Rhodes Scholarship. She is married with three children.

Karen Tan E-Ling is Deputy Director for Strategic Policy at the Ministry of the Environment and Water Resources, Singapore. Her portfolio covers the formulation and implementation of policies to ensure Singapore's environmental sustainability, including air pollution control.

She has previously worked at the Ministry of Transport and the Ministry of Finance and is an officer in the Singapore Administrative Service.

She studied in Dunman High School and Victoria Junior College, Singapore, and holds a BA(Hons) in Politics, Philosophy and Economics from Oxford University and an MA in Political Science from Columbia University. She is married.