

THE AUTHOR

The late Chao Tzang Yawngghwe was educated at various Roman Catholic mission schools in Shan State. He was a son of the first President of the Union of Burma. He graduated from Rangoon University in 1969 and was a tutor in English at the university until 1963 when he joined the Shan resistance movement. He left the movement in 1976 and settled down in Chiangmai, Thailand, where he worked in several finance companies and kept in close touch with Shan political and cultural activities. He has contributed articles to the Bangkok Post and Chiangmai University. He left Chiangmai in 1985 and lived in Canada. He passed away on 24 July 2004.