

16. Soldiers run from their own tear gas during a fight with protestors at Dinso Road, 10 April 2010. Source: Photos 16 to 30 courtesy of Nick Nostitz.

17. Several soldiers were captured and brought to the Red Shirts' stage after the 10 April 2010 violence, but were soon let off.

18. Red Shirt protestors surrounding tanks left behind by defeated soldiers at Democracy Monument, 11 April 2010.

19. Lt. Gen. Khattiya Sawatdiphon, or Se Daeng, visits Red Shirt leaders Arisman Phongrueangrong and Rambo Isan after their daring escape from the SC Park Hotel, 16 April 2010.

20. Counter-protestors of the multi-coloured group, mostly PAD members, gather at Victory Monument, 17 April 2010.

21. Anti-Red Shirt protestors cheer soldiers at Silom Road, 22 April 2010.

22. Anti-Red Shirt protesters at Silom Road, 22 April 2010.

23. Bangkok Governor MR Sukhumbhand Paribatra visits the Red Shirt leaders for negotiations behind the stage, 20 April 2010.

24. The Sala Daeng barricade at the Ratchaprasong encampment of the Red Shirts, 24 April 2010.

25. Private Narongrit Phonsila died in a “friendly fire” incident after clashes between Red Shirts and security forces at the National Memorial in Bangkok, 28 April 2010.

26. Jo Subin, a photographer for Matchon newspaper, was shot by the army on Wireless Road, 14 May 2010.

27. The Samliam Dindaeng battle zone, 16 May 2010.

28. A crying Red Shirt protestor holds up a photo of Se Daeng when news broke that he died from severe injuries, 17 May 2010.

29. Captured Red Shirt protestors at Sarasin Road, 19 May 2010.

30. Captured Red Shirt protesters at Sarasin Road, 19 May 2010.

31. A statue and a torn Thai national flag remain in front of Bangkok's Central World shopping mall, as it burns. 19 May 2010. Source: REUTERS/ Adrees Latif.

