

THE AUTHOR

Dr Tran Khanh is a researcher with the Institute of Southeast Asian Studies in Hanoi, where he specializes in modern socio-economic problems, especially the issue of the Overseas Chinese community in his country. This was the subject of his postgraduate work at the Leningrad State University. His two recent books in Vietnamese were The Role of the Ethnic Chinese in the Economies of Southeast Asian Countries (1992) and Singapore's Success in Economic Development (1993).