

Contributors

John L. Kennedy is Editor of Oil and Gas Journal, the weekly international petroleum magazine with its headquarters in Houston. Mr Kennedy has been on the Journal editorial staff for twenty-four years. Before being Editor, he served as Gas Processing Editor, Drilling Editor, Engineering Editor, and Managing Editor. He is a graduate of Kansas State University with a BS degree in Civil Engineering, and had worked as an engineer for a major oil company before joining the Journal.

Onnic Marashian is Editor-in-Chief (since 1973) of Platt's Oilgram News, a daily international newsletter published in New York and Houston by McGraw-Hill, Inc., and Director of News, Western Hemisphere, for Platt's Energy Services. Prior to that he was Chief of Washington News Bureau of Platt's for twelve years.

Shankar Sharma, Ph.D. (Economics, University of Hawaii), is a Fellow at the ASEAN Economic Research Unit, Institute of Southeast Asian Studies. He is also Co-ordinator of the Energy Project at the Institute. He has published several monographs and articles on energy and the economy and has served as consultant to many national and international agencies. His recent book is Energy Markets and Policies in ASEAN (co-editor with Fereidun Fesharaki, 1991). He is a Consultant Editor to Hydrocarbon Asia, a bi-monthly magazine published in Singapore and a member of World Energy Council Committee of Energy Issues of Developing Countries (1990–92).

Kiyoshi Takahashi is the Chairman (since 1991) of Showa Shell Sekiyu K.K., Japan. Prior to joining Showa Shell in 1979, Mr Takahashi, who graduated from the Faculty of Law, Tokyo University, was the Deputy Director-General of the International Trade Policy Bureau, MITI, Japan.

Joseph L.H. Tan is a Senior Fellow at the Institute of Southeast Asian Studies, where he has served for eleven years since obtaining his doctorate from Harvard University. He is also Co-ordinator of the Institute's ASEAN Economic Research Unit, and has been Editor-in-Charge of the ASEAN Economic Bulletin since mid-1985. His recent publications include Trade, Protectionism, and Industrial Adjustment in Vegetable Oils: Asian Responses to North America (co-editor with Shankar Sharma, 1989), "Asia-Pacific Dynamism and Its Opportunities and Threats for ASEAN" (1990), ASEAN-U.S. Economic Relations: Private Enterprise as a Means for Economic Development and Co-operation (contributor and co-editor with Narongchai Akrasanee, 1990) and Myanmar Dilemmas and Options: The Challenge of Economic Transition in the 1990s (co-editor and contributor with Mya Than, 1990).

Philip K. Verleger, Jr., is a Visiting Fellow at the Institute of International Economics, Washington, DC. Dr Verleger holds a Ph.D. in economics from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He has served as a senior staff economist on the President's Council of Economic Advisors and as a senior advisor on domestic energy matters at the U.S. Treasury. Dr Verleger has published books and articles on the economics of the petroleum industry and was one of the first to predict the decline in oil prices. He also consults exclusively through the firm of Charles Riven Associates.