

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Rumadi was born in Jepara (Central Java) on 18 September 1970. After completing Primary School (1983) and graduating from a State Islamic Junior High School (1986) in Jepara, Rumadi went on to study at the State Religious Teacher Vocational School in Kudus. In 1989 he studied at the Faculty of Syariah at the Walisongo State Islamic Institute (IAIN) in Semarang, graduating in 1994. From 1995 to 1997 Rumadi completed his Masters at the Imam Bonjol IAIN in Padang, and later, in 2006, he obtained his PhD from Syarif Hidayatullah State Islamic University (UIN) in Jakarta.

Rumadi taught at the Bengkulu State Islamic College (STAIN) from 1997 to 2004 before moving to the Faculty of Islamic Syariah and Law at Syarif Hidayatullah UIN in Jakarta. While teaching, Rumadi was also senior researcher at the Wahid Institute (2005–present) and editor of the Taswirul Afkar journal published by NU's Institute for Human Resource Studies and Development (Lakpesdam NU) (2000–present).

Rumadi has published several books, including Masyarakat Post-Teologi/ Post-Theology Society (Jakarta: Gugus, 2002), Fiqh Mazhab Negara, Kritik atas Politik Hukum Islam di Indonesia/Fiqh and the State: A Critique of the Politics of Islamic Law in Indonesia, co-authored with Marzuki Wahid (Yogyakarta: LKIS, 2001), Renungan Santri: Dari Jihad Hingga Kritik Wacana Agama/Santri Reflections: From Jihad to a Critique of Religious Discourse (Jakarta: Erlangga, 2007), Post Tradisionalisme Islam, Wacana Intelektualisme dalam Komunitas NU/Islamic Post-Traditionalism, Intellectual Discourse in the NU Community (Cirebon: Fahmina, 2007). In addition Rumadi has also contributed to and been the editor of a number of books. Besides being well published in several academic journals, his articles are frequently published in a variety of newspapers such as Kompas, Suara Pembaruan, Koran Tempo, Media Indonesia, and Suara Karya, amongst others.