MANAGING GLOBALIZATION IN THE ASIAN CENTURY

“Prema-Chandra Athukorala has risen to prominence in a country, and a university, which are amply endowed with world class expertise in Economics. While his writings have focused largely on international and developmental policies in Asia, they also have relevance beyond Asia. This celebratory volume is a fitting tribute by some of his many distinguished friends and admirers to a major scholar.”

Jagdish Bhagwati
Columbia University

“Dr. Prema-Chandra Athukorala’s work has had a monumental impact on development and international economics. This book honours a brilliant scholar, and also offers a collection of excellent papers on the Asia-Pacific economies by his friends and colleagues who are esteemed scholars. It provides an important reading for scholars and policymakers to learn more about contemporary economic issues in the region.”

Jong-Wha Lee
Korea University

“The calibre of the contributors to this volume speaks eloquently to the standing and sustained influence of Chandra; the quality of the content of the chapters adds to our understanding of a range of complex globalization challenges. Overall it is a splendid testament to a fine career, and a collection of essays that will stand the test of time.”
