

Reproduced from Myanmar Transformed? People, Places and Politics, edited by Justine Chambers, Gerard McCarthy, Nicholas Farrelly and Chit Win (Singapore: ISEAS – Yusof Ishak Institute, 2018). This version was obtained electronically direct from the publisher on condition that copyright is not infringed. No part of this publication may be reproduced without the prior permission of ISEAS – Yusof Ishak Institute. E-book is available at <http://bookshop.iseas.edu.sg>

Myanmar Transformed?

The ISEAS - Yusof Ishak Institute (formerly Institute of Southeast Asian Studies) is an autonomous organization established in 1968. It is a regional centre dedicated to the study of socio-political, security, and economic trends and developments in Southeast Asia and its wider geostrategic and economic environment. The Institute's research programmes are grouped under Regional Economic Studies (RES), Regional Strategic and Political Studies (RSPS), and Regional Social and Cultural Studies (RSCS). The Institute is also home to the ASEAN Studies Centre (ASC), the Nalanda-Sriwijaya Centre (NSC) and the Singapore APEC Study Centre.

ISEAS Publishing, an established academic press, has issued more than 2,000 books and journals. It is the largest scholarly publisher of research about Southeast Asia from within the region. ISEAS Publishing works with many other academic and trade publishers and distributors to disseminate important research and analyses from and about Southeast Asia to the rest of the world.

Myanmar Update Series

Myanmar Transformed?

People, Places and Politics

EDITED BY

JUSTINE CHAMBERS • GERARD MCCARTHY
NICHOLAS FARRELLY • CHIT WIN

ISEAS YUSOF ISHAK
INSTITUTE

First published in Singapore in 2018 by
ISEAS Publishing
30 Heng Mui Keng Terrace
Singapore 119614

E-mail: publish@iseas.edu.sg
Website: <http://bookshop.iseas.edu.sg>

All rights reserved. No part of this publication may be reproduced, translated, stored in a retrieval system, or transmitted in any form or by any means, electronic, mechanical, photocopying, recording or otherwise, without the prior permission of the ISEAS – Yusof Ishak Institute.

© 2018 ISEAS – Yusof Ishak Institute, Singapore

The responsibility for facts and opinions in this publication rests exclusively with the authors and their interpretations do not necessarily reflect the views or the policy of the Institute or its supporters.

ISEAS Library Cataloguing-in-Publication Data

Myanmar Transformed? People, Places and Politics / edited by Justine Chambers, Gerard McCarthy, Nicholas Farrelly and Chit Win.

Papers originally presented to the Myanmar Update Conference 2017 held at the Australian National University, Canberra, from 17 to 18 February 2017.

1. Burma—Politics and government—21st century—Congresses.
2. Burma—Social conditions—Congresses.
3. Burma—Economic conditions—Congresses.
- I. Chambers, Justine.
- II. McCarthy, Gerard.
- III. Farrelly, Nicholas.
- IV. Chit Win.
- V. Australian National University.
- VI. Myanmar Update Conference (2017 : Canberra, Australia)

DS530.4 B972 2017

2018

ISBN 978-981-4818-53-7 (soft cover)
ISBN 978-981-4818-54-4 (hard cover)
ISBN 978-981-4818-55-1 (e-book, PDF)

Cover photo: A candid moment at the opening ceremony of the 21st Century Panglong Conference on 31 August 2016 in Naypyitaw, Myanmar. From left to right: Senior General Min Aung Hlaing, Speaker of the Upper House of Parliament Mahn Win Khaing Than, Vice President Henry Van Thio, State Counsellor Aung San Suu Kyi and President Htin Kyaw.

Photograph by Aung Khant.

Typeset by Maxine McArthur
Printed in Singapore by Markono Print Media Pte Ltd

CONTENTS

List of Tables	vii
List of Figures	viii
Acknowledgements	ix
Contributors and Editors	xi

Part I Introduction

1. Myanmar Transformed? Justine Chambers and Gerard McCarthy	3
--	---

Part II People

2. Documenting Social and Economic Transformation in Myanmar's Rural Communities Samuel Pursch, Andrea Woodhouse, Michael Woolcock, Matthew Zurstrassen	23
3. Social Protection in Myanmar: A Key Mechanism for Political Legitimacy? Yaw Bawm Mangshang and Mike Griffiths	53
4. Health Service Delivery and Peacebuilding in Southeast Myanmar Si Thura and Tim Schroeder	85

Part III Places

5. Myanmar's Rural Revolution: Mechanization and Structural Transformation Myat Thida Win, Ben Belton and Xiaobo Zhang	109
--	-----

6. Change and Continuity: Capacity, Coordination and Natural Resources in Myanmar's Periphery Giuseppe Gabusi	137
7. Advocacy Organizations and Special Economic Zones in Myanmar Pyae Phyo Maung and Tamas Wells	161
8. Explaining Naypyitaw under the National League for Democracy Nicholas Farrelly	181

Part IV Politics

9. Partnership in Politics: The Tatmadaw and the NLD in Myanmar since 2016 Maung Aung Myoe	201
10. From Ceasefire to Dialogue: The Problem of "All-Inclusiveness" in Myanmar's Stalled Peace Process Lwin Cho Latt, Ben Hillman, Marlar Aung and Khin Sanda Myint	231
11. Securitization of the Rohingya in Myanmar Kyaw Zeyar Win	251
12. Forming an Inclusive National Identity in Myanmar: Voices of Mon People Cecile Medail	277

Part V Epilogue

13. Reflections on Myanmar Under the NLD so far Matthew Walton	311
Abbreviations and Key Terms	319
Index	323

LIST OF TABLES

3.1 Summary of existing and planned social protection instruments in Myanmar	66
3.2 Benefits and contribution rates under the Social Security Law and Rules (2012)	67
4.1 A short description of the prominent EHOs in southeast Myanmar	92
5.1: Annual sales by surveyed machinery dealerships in Yangon (2012–16)	120
9.1 Groups and papers at the 21st Century Panglong Conference	210
10.1 Members and non-members of the Nationwide Ceasefire Agreement	246
10.2 Peace plans	247

LIST OF FIGURES

4.1 Healthcare Convergence Core Group (HCCG) Primary Health Care Convergence Model for Burma/Myanmar	100
4.2 Framework of National Health Plan, 2017–2021	102
5.1 Share of agricultural households (per cent) using machinery, by area of country and type of machinery, 2010	115
5.2 Machinery and draft animal use in paddy cultivation, 2015–16	116
5.3 Cumulative purchases of selected machinery, 1990–2015	117
5.4 Total real purchase value of selected machinery, 2000–15	118
5.5 Use of machinery for land preparation and harvesting in paddy cultivation, by source of machinery, 2006–16	122
5.6 Share of households using machinery for land preparation and harvesting in paddy cultivation, by farm size Ggroup (2015/16)	123
5.7 Cumulative share of migrants by year and destination	125
5.8 Share of 2016 machinery sales by source of finance and machine type	128
5.9 Number and location of machinery suppliers, 2010, 2013, and 2016	130
11.1 The vicious cycle or obstacles to resolving the Rohingya problem	271

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The February 2017 Myanmar Update conference at the Australian National University (ANU) brought together academics, researchers and policymakers from Myanmar and abroad for two intensive days of discussion and debate. Commencing with a keynote address by Professor Dr. Aung Tun Thet, Representative of State Counsellor Aung San Suu Kyi, the conference was one of the best attended and thematically expansive conferences of its kind since the Update series began in 1999.

We are immensely grateful for the financial and institutional support the 2017 Myanmar Update conference and this resulting publication received from the Australian National University and its Myanmar Research Centre. The conference convenors, who are also the editors of Myanmar Transformed?, are especially thankful for the generous support of the College of Asia and the Pacific and its Department of Political and Social Change, and also to the Australian Government's Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade.

We particularly acknowledge the personal commitment of Professor Michael Wesley, the College Dean, in supporting the ongoing work of our Regional Institutes. The 2017 Update rested heavily on the organising skills of the Regional Institutes team, among whom Samuel Bashfield deserves special mention for his tremendous work. Jean Sum, Olivia Cable and Kerrie Hogan of the Coral Bell School of Asia Pacific Affairs also assisted with crucial logistical and administrative support. Professor Andrew Walker played a key role in the early stages of the conference call for papers, and we acknowledge his efforts. The Menzies Library hosted a superb retrospective about ANU-Myanmar collaboration over the decades, for which we must thank Amy Chan for her enthusiasm and vision.

Thanks are also due to the excellent team at New Mandala, including past and present editors James Giggacher and Liam Gammon as well as associate editor Mish Khan, for helping to promote the conference and podcasting the various panels. James Davies and Amy Doffegnies prepared excellent summaries of the important issues raised at the conference. Special thanks go to the Australian Mon Association for providing hearty and delicious catering throughout the conference, and Yuri Takahashi for running an engaging Burmese language learners session on the afternoon of the first day. The ANU Myanmar Students' Association (ANUMSA) was also instrumental in helping to organise the Burmese language roundtable, supporting the Burmese learners session and coordinating captivating entertainment during the conference dinner. The convenors and editors thank ANUMSA members for their enthusiasm and look forward to the Association's continued flourishing in the years to come.

This edited volume has been a collective effort from start to finish, and has been made possible due to the commitment and cooperation of many people. Special thanks are due to Maxine McArthur, who faithfully and thoughtfully assisted us with copy-editing, indexing and laying out the text of the manuscript. We are grateful for the steadfast backing we have received from the Department of Political and Social Change in providing the staff and resources necessary to ensure the book's high production standards. We also acknowledge the many anonymous colleagues who offered thoughtful and generous reviews of papers. Your support was invaluable in challenging and extending our authors, and the quality of their analysis is testament to your professionalism.

We also thank our contributors who devoted their time and energy to their chapters, especially our Myanmar contributors for whom the publication process was in many cases an entirely new experience. We are delighted that more than half of the chapters in this volume are authored or co-authored by Myanmar scholars and researchers, the largest number of any Myanmar Update publication. Your patience, efforts and collegiality throughout the publication process have alone made this project worthwhile.

Last but not least, we acknowledge Ng Nok Kiong and Rahilah Yusuf at the ISEAS – Yusof Ishak Institute in Singapore for their ongoing support and faith in the Myanmar Update publication series. We look forward to working with our colleagues in Singapore in the future.

CONTRIBUTORS AND EDITORS

Ben Belton is an Assistant Professor of International Development in the Department of Agricultural, Food and Resource Economics, Michigan State University.

Justine Chambers is the Associate Director of the Myanmar Research Centre and a doctoral candidate in the Department of Anthropology at the Australian National University.

Chit Win gained his PhD in the Department of Political and Social Change at the Australian National University.

Nicholas Farrelly is Associate Dean of the College of Asia and the Pacific and was previously Director of the Myanmar Research Centre, both at the Australian National University.

Giuseppe Gabusi is a Professor of International Political Economy and Political Economy of East Asia in the Department of Cultures, Politics and Society of the University of Turin, and Head of Program at T.wai, the Torino World Affairs Institute.

Mike Griffiths is Director of Research for the Social Policy and Poverty Research Group, and PhD Candidate at the University of Hull.

Ben Hillman is Associate Professor and Director of the Policy and Governance Program at Crawford School of Public Policy, Australian National University.

Khin Sanda Myint is a freelance researcher and she was an Assistant Lecturer of the Department of International Relations at the University of Yangon.

Kyaw Zeyar Win is a researcher and a masters candidate in the Department of International Relations at the Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Affairs at Syracuse University.

Lwin Cho Latt is a Lecturer of the Department of International Relations at the University of Yangon.

Marlar Aung is a Lecturer of the Department of International Relations at the University of Yangon.

Maung Aung Myoe is a Professor of International Relations at the International University of Japan.

Gerard McCarthy is the Associate Director of the Myanmar Research Centre and a doctoral candidate in the Coral Bell School of Asia and Pacific Affairs at the Australian National University.

Cecile Medail is a doctoral candidate in the Department of International Political Studies at the University of New South Wales.

Myat Thida Win is a masters candidate in the Department of Agricultural, Food, and Resource Economics at Michigan State University.

Pyae Phyo Maung is a Yangon-based aid and development consultant specialising in monitoring, evaluation and learning.

Samuel Pursch is a research and strategy advisor working on governance and social development in Myanmar and across Southeast Asia.

Tim Schroeder is the Head of Program at Covenant Consult, a Yangon-based consultancy firm.

Si Thura is the Executive Director of Community Partners International, a US-based non-profit organization that focuses on humanitarian and development work in Southeast Asia.

Matthew Walton is an Assistant Professor in Comparative Political Theory at the University of Toronto and was previously the Director of the Programme on Modern Burmese Studies at St Antony's College, University of Oxford.

Tamas Wells is a research fellow in the School of Social and Political Sciences at the University of Melbourne.

Andrea Woodhouse is a senior social development specialist at the World Bank.

Michael Woolcock is lead social scientist with the World Bank's Development Research Group, and a (part-time) Lecturer in Public Policy at Harvard University's Kennedy School of Government.

Yaw Bawm Mangshang currently works for the Diplomatic Mission of Finland in Yangon. He earned an MA in Law and Diplomacy from The Fletcher School, Tufts University in 2015.

Xiaobo Zhang is Distinguished Chair Professor of Economics at the National School of Development, Peking University in China, and Senior Research Fellow at the International Food Policy Research Institute.

Matthew Zurstrassen is a development professional working on social research and justice programs in the Asia Pacific Region and managed research for the World Bank's "Livelihoods and Social Change in Rural Myanmar" study.