Praetorians, Profiteers or Professionals?

The ISEAS – Yusof Ishak Institute (formerly Institute of Southeast Asian Studies) is an autonomous organization established in 1968. It is a regional centre dedicated to the study of socio-political, security, and economic trends and developments in Southeast Asia and its wider geostrategic and economic environment. The Institute's research programmes are grouped under Regional Economic Studies (RES), Regional Strategic and Political Studies (RSPS), and Regional Social and Cultural Studies (RSCS). The Institute is also home to the ASEAN Studies Centre (ASC), the Singapore APEC Study Centre, and the Temasek History Research Centre (THRC).

ISEAS Publishing, an established academic press, has issued more than 2,000 books and journals. It is the largest scholarly publisher of research about Southeast Asia from within the region. ISEAS Publishing works with many other academic and trade publishers and distributors to disseminate important research and analyses from and about Southeast Asia to the rest of the world.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

We thank Professor Suchit Bunbongkarn, a long-time friend of ISEAS and supporter of its work, for first proposing preparation of a comparative volume on the militaries of Myanmar and Thailand and former ISEAS Director Tan Chin Tiong for encouraging us to take this idea up. Without the trade-mark commitment, understanding, and professionalism of Ng Kok Kiong, Sheryl Sin Bing Peng and their colleagues at ISEAS Publishing, this book would have been impossible. Aung Aung Hlaing offered guidance on the transliteration of Myanmar-language terms, and Nursyazwani Jamaludin took charge of submitting the manuscript to ISEAS Publishing.

In addition to kindly contributing an epilogue, Professor Robert H. Taylor has been a mentor and guide to us in our work on the book. In the course of that work, both he and his fellow contributors have exemplified collegiality, scholarly dedication, and above all extreme patience. To collaborate with each of them has been a privilege for which we are grateful.
