The editors invite submission of manuscripts (up to 7,000 words, including endnotes) on subjects within the field of politics and strategic and international affairs as they impinge on the Southeast Asian and wider Asia-Pacific geographical region. Manuscripts should be double-spaced with notes and references appended at the end, and submitted in duplicate, together with an abstract of approximately 125 words, and should be accompanied by a computer diskette. CSEA does not accept manuscripts that have already been published or are being considered for publication elsewhere. Manuscripts will be refereed by external readers.

Address for submission of manuscripts:

Contemporary Southeast Asia is an internationally refereed journal that specializes in the politics, international relations and security-related issues of Southeast Asia and its wider geostrategic environment. Apart from serving as a reliable and up-to-date source of information on various events and trends in regional politics, international relations and security questions that affect Southeast Asia, CSEA also publishes the results of original research on these subjects by both scholars and other interested persons.
