Asian Journal of Political Science

The Asian Journal of Political Science is a refereed publication of the Department of Political Science, the National University of Singapore. It is published twice a year, in June and December, by Times Academic Press for the Department. The first issue was published in June 1993.

The journal publishes articles in the four sub-fields of political science, namely political theory, comparative politics, international relations and public administration. As the name indicates, the journal focuses on Asia.

Articles in the latest issue (Vol. 2, No. 2, December 1994) include:

Southeast Asian Chinese and the Development of China, Wang Gungwu

The Foreign Policy of the People's Republic of China: A Balance-Sheet, Robert A. Scalapino

The Rise and Fall of "Reformist Governments": Hosokawa and Hata, 1993-1994, Takashi Inoguchi

Civil Service Reform in China, John Burns

All correspondence regarding editorial matters should be directed to The Editor, Asian Journal of Political Science, Department of Political Science, National University of Singapore, Kent Ridge, Singapore 0511. Fax: (65) 779-6815.

It is with great pleasure that I renew my subscription to Periodica Islamica. The four volumes so far have provided me with valuable information. I am particularly happy to see what many consider to be very marginal publications... Best wishes in all your travails.

Periodica Islamica* is an international contents journal. In its quarterly issues it reproduces tables of contents from a wide variety of serials, periodicals and other recurring publications worldwide. These primary publications are selected for indexing by Periodica Islamica on the basis of their significance for religious, cultural, socioeconomic and political affairs of the Muslim World.

Periodica Islamica is the premiere source of reference for all multi-disciplinary discourses on the world of Islam. Browsing through an issue of Periodica Islamica is like visiting your library 100 times over. Four times a year, in a highly compact format, it delivers indispensable information on a broad spectrum of disciplines explicitly or implicitly related to Islamic issues.

Contemporary Southeast Asia is a journal that specializes in the politics, international relations and security-related issues of Southeast Asia and its wider geostrategic environment. Although it was originally conceived as a more general journal of the social sciences in 1979, CSEA has come to focus more closely on the concerns of the Institute's Regional Strategic Studies Programme since 1987. Apart from serving as a reliable and up-to-date source of information on various events and trends in regional politics, international relations and security questions that affect Southeast Asia, CSEA also publishes the results of original research on these subjects by both scholars and other interested persons.
