The ASEAN Reader is a mosaic of research material on ASEAN meticulously culled and crafted by a multi-disciplinary team of ISEAS researchers from the thousands of pieces of scholarly research which have been published on ASEAN over the past 25 years.

The ASEAN Reader is divided into ten comprehensive sections. There is a general introduction to the volume, as well as introductions specific to each of the sections.

Every effort has been made to ensure that disciplinary, as well as historical developments, have received broad representation, and that there is a balance of points-of-view reflected in a mix of Asian and Western scholars.

SECURITY CHALLENGES FOR SOUTHEAST ASIA
AFTER THE COLD WAR

By
Robert O'Neil

1992      25 pp.      ISBN 981-3016-43-4      PIC65

This book records the public lecture given by Robert O'Neil, Chichele Professor of the History of War at All Souls College, Oxford. It traces how far the Cold War has been a cause of security problems in Southeast Asia and considers the nature of the security challenges facing the region in the post-Cold War period. The region will have to manage these challenges through its own policies and resources.

Contemporary Southeast Asia is a journal that specializes in the politics, international relations and security-related issues of Southeast Asia and its wider geostrategic environment. Although it was originally conceived as a more general journal of the social sciences in 1979, CSEA has come to focus more closely on the concerns of the Institute's Regional Strategic Studies Programme since 1987. Apart from serving as a reliable and up-to-date source of information on various events and trends in regional politics, international relations and security questions that affect Southeast Asia, CSEA also publishes the results of original research on these subjects by both scholars and other interested persons.

Contemporary Southeast Asia is published quarterly in June, September, December and March by the Institute of Southeast Asian Studies.
