Development and Change

Published on behalf of the Institute of Social Studies,
The Hague

Edited by Martin Doornbos, Henk van Roosmalen, and Ashwani Saith Institute of Social Studies, The Hague

Development and Change is an interdisciplinary journal devoted to the critical analysis and discussion of current issues of development. The journal receives articles from all the social sciences and intellectual persuasions concerned with development and the understanding of Third World problems. It includes articles with a strong empirical bent as well as those with a more theoretical orientation or historical perspective.

Recurrent themes include topics related to the analysis of poverty processes, rural and agricultural transformation, industrial strategies, regional disparities, labour and migration, educational and manpower policies, the transfer of technology, gender issues, the role of state and bureaucracy, and the politics of development strategies.

Development and Change is published quarterly in January, April,
July, and October
ISSN: 0012-155X
