

: ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Mely Caballero-Anthony, Ph.D., is Assistant Professor at the Institute of Defence and Strategic Studies (IDSS), Singapore. At IDSS, she teaches a course on Government and Politics in Southeast Asia and is currently project co-ordinator of the IDSS-FORD Project on Non-Traditional Security in Asia. Her research interests include regionalism and regional security in the Asia-Pacific, multilateral security co-operation, politics and international relations in ASEAN, conflict prevention and management, as well as human security. She has been very involved in track two work through her close association with the Council for Security Cooperation in the Asia Pacific (CSCAP) and the ASEAN Institutes of Strategic and International Studies (ASEAN-ISIS) network.

She has published articles on ASEAN, the ARF, Malaysian and Philippines security issues which appeared in journals such as Asian Survey, Asian Perspective, Contemporary Southeast Asia, Southeast Asian Affairs, and Indonesian Quarterly, and contributed several book chapters on regional security trends and human security. She has also co-edited several books, such as The Asia Pacific in the New Millennium: Political and Security Challenges (Kuala Lumpur: Institute of Strategic and International Studies, 2001) and is currently working on an edited volume on The UN Peace Operation and its Implications on Asia Pacific Security.

Aside from her academic interest, she enjoys music of different genres and is herself an accomplished musician.