

About the Author

Jørgen Ørstrøm Møller is born in 1944. He obtained Cand. Polit. (Master of Science, Economics) from the University of Copenhagen in 1968. He joined the Danish diplomatic service on 1 February 1968 and worked with European integration for twenty-six years (1971 to 1997); from 1989 to 1997 as State-Secretary. From 1997 to 2005 he was Ambassador to Singapore and Brunei Darussalam, and from 2002, also Australia and New Zealand, residing in Singapore.

When he retired from the Danish diplomatic service in 2005, Mr Møller joined the Institute of Southeast Asian Studies (ISEAS), Singapore as Visiting Senior Research Fellow. He is Adjunct Professor, Copenhagen Business School and a member of the Adjunct Faculty, Singapore Management University (SMU), Chairman of the Advisory Board, Asia Research Center, Copenhagen Business School (CBS) and member of Singapore National Council, INSEAD, Forum International Competitiveness, CBS, Council of The World Future Society, Board of Governors ASEF (Asia Europe Foundation), Advisory Board of Asia Europe Journal, International Advisory Council, Center for Comparative Integration Studies, Aalborg University, ASEM Vision Group working from 1998 to 1999, Videnskabsministerens fremtidspanel from May 2007 to January 2008.

His major publications in English are:

- A New International System. Singapore: Institute of Southeast Asian Studies, 2004.
- The End of Internationalism or World Governance. Westport, CT: Greenwood Publishing House, 2000.
- The Future European Model. Westport, CT: Greenwood Publishing Group, 1995.
- Technology and Culture in a European Context. Copenhagen: Handelshøjskolens Forlag, 1991.
- Member States and the Community Budget. Copenhagen: Samfundsvidenskabeligt Forlag, 1982.

He has also published a large number of journal articles and contributed columns to numerous newspapers and websites.